

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

A network having a plurality of nodes is disclosed. The network includes an event channel adapted to transmit an event between a publisher node and a subscriber node within the network. The network also includes a filter to identify the event on the subscriber node. The network also includes an application on the 5 subscriber node to receive the event according to the filter.